

MANY QUESTIONS FOR PRESBYTERIANS

To Settle at 133d General Assembly of Denomination, Beginning at Winona Lake 19th

(By Associated Press)
Winona Lake, Ind., May 18.—Nearly 1,000 overtures from the presbyteries and synods on 25 different subjects will be presented before the 133d General Assembly of the Presbyterian church which meets here tomorrow and continues until May 29. This is the largest number of overtures ever received. The last high number was 600.

The overtures embrace resolutions asking for changes in form of Presbyterian government, limitation of the office of Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, consolidation of various boards, a revision and reallocation of the Presbyterian annual budget.

There are also overtures relative to the question of the Organic Union of Evangelical Churches. One overture of this kind asks that there be no such union, while another advocates even though the presbyteries have decided against organic union that still negotiations be continued and plans devised looking forward to such a union.

At present the question of organic union is before the presbyteries, having been sent down by General Assembly to the presbyteries for their action last year. On April 29, the records in the Stated Clerk's office at Philadelphia, showed that more presbyteries were opposing the union of evangelical churches than were favoring it, the vote at that time standing 78 in favor and 104 opposed. To carry Presbyterian law requires that there be a two-third majority.

A special committee of General Assembly on church co-operation and union will consider this vote at General Assembly and will make a report of special interest.

Besides the question of organic union this committee will also bring in recommendations on a Federal plan of union of Reform and Presbyterian churches holding the Presbyterian system. Considerable headway is expected to be made in plans for federal union of the churches holding this Presbyterian system which include the Dutch Reformed church, German Reformed church, the Southern Presbyterian church, and the Presbyterian church in the U. C. A., and the United Presbyterian church.

Another important question to be considered will be relative to the eligibility of women to the eldership and deaconship of Presbyterian churches. This also was sent down by the last Assembly to the 302 presbyteries and is now being voted on.

In addition to the many overtures to be received one important matter will come up in connection with the election of a successor to the Stated Clerk's office to fill the vacancy left by the death of the late Dr. William Henry Roberts. Two overtures refer to this office, one asking for its reorganization and limitation of the Stated Clerk's term of five years and another referring to the election of a successor to Dr. Roberts.

Congressmen and Officials Get Their Booze Cheap

New York, May 18.—The World today prints the following special Washington dispatch:

Washington, May 17.—The manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the shadow of the Capitol has become so common that dry leaders in Congress are preparing to ask for investigation of a newspaper story that illicit distilleries are being operated in the executive bureaus and that whisky is being peddled in the Senate and House office buildings.

A sensation was created here today by reports that a still had been located in the Government Printing Office and that George H. Carter recently appointed Public Printer, is making a careful inquiry into the wet activities of some of his employees.

Recently a messenger in the prohibition unit was discovered bootlegging all about Prohibition Commissioner Kramer's office, "blind tigers" or "blind pigs" have been broken up in various departments.

Clerks to committees of Congress and secretaries to members of the House and Senate get quotations on wet goods daily. Any shading in the rye, corn or grain is known in the Senate and House office building and the Capitol and the trade is brisk or dull according to price.

Today Southern made corn whisky of a very good quality was selling for $7 a quart. It is but recently that the "corn juice" has commenced to flow from North Carolina and Virginia.

"Running liquor by automobile routes is less dangerous than it used to be," said a Capitol expert today, "and that is why we can get good whisky at $7."

Here's a Hound That Finds Something Harder to Catch Than Bre'r Fox

The Daily Register's very faithful and reliable correspondent at Bend, on the river, sends in this story of a remarkable hound dog that has been developed in his section. He writes:

"The Bend holds the record for the most remarkable dog so far. While the fox hunters were having a chase the other night one of the dogs left the pack; was heard at the crossing of the river, barking, and the tone was different from that while in the chase. The men decided to see what he was baying. One examination they found two quarts of 'shine' suspended from a limb overhanging the water. It is claimed by those who found it that it was of a rich mellow flavor, the best they ever tasted. Only a few of the elite were allowed to sample it. Tracks were found in the sand. From their size and a peculiar twist of the foot, it is thought they came from the district known as Punchon Camp. This dog will not be allowed to enter the races any more, but will be kept for the purposes of going up and down the river and locating this 'shine,' which is said to be suspended on or about the full of the moon.

For four months he had been unwell, the doctor said, but he refused to leave his work, saying it was important, and if necessary he would rather die than stop for treatment.

The Chief Justice, who is 76 years of age, had always been in rugged health, except for a slight impairment of vision which had troubled him for several years.

He was a well-known figure about the capital as he enjoyed walking and was to be seen frequently among crowds on the streets. The Chief Justice is a native of Louisiana and served in the Confederate army during the Civil war. He served in the United States senate three years before he was appointed to the Supreme Court by President Grover Cleveland in 1894. Although he had been a Democrat in politics, he was elevated to the Chief Justiceship in 1910 by President W. H. Taft.

SIR KNIGHTS GO TO MT. STERLING

74th Annual Conclave Draws Big Throng of High Order to Montgomery Capital

Richmond Commandery's big delegation to the Annual Conclave of Knights Templar at Mt. Sterling left early Wednesday morning. The Sir Knights all left in fatigue uniform. Many took their wives with them, prepared to have a big time during their visit to the big convention.

The seventy-fourth annual convocation of the Knights Templar of Kentucky began there Tuesday night, with nearly 1,000 knights and ladies in attendance. Special trains are coming in with commanders and the city is colorful with flags, bunting and streamers. There are nine bands of music and drums.

The convocation opened with a reception at the home of Wm. I. Oldham, by the Montgomery Commandery, complimentary to the Grand Commander A. A. Hazelrigg and staff.

Prof. Esberger's band, Cincinnati, entertained large crowd with a musical concert. The parade and grand convocation meeting will be held Wednesday.

John G. Wain, of Mt. Sterling, delivered the welcome address and the response was made by Eminent Sir A. Gordon Sulser, of Mayville, while the sermon to the knights will be delivered at the Christian church by St. Knight Thomas Athey, of Shelbyville.

Among the notable knights on hand is Right Eminent Sir Knight William E. Melish, past grand master, grand chapter of the United States.

A number of cities are asking for the next meeting, but it looks like Mayville will be selected.

One of the most enjoyable receptions and dances ever given by Mt. Sterling was that by DeMolay Commandery, Louisville, at Kimball Hall, Tuesday night.

MADISON HI WINS FROM MODEL HI

In a loosely played game Tuesday afternoon, Model Hi was overwhelmingly defeated by Madison Hi. The final score was 11 to 2. The Madison boys showed their superiority in all departments of the game and were never in any danger.

Sam Reid, Madison's star pitcher, lived up to his reputation by letting the Model sluggers down with two clean hits and fanning 11 men, but he did not extend himself at any time which accounts for the comparative small number of strikeouts to his credit.

Madison's infield and outfield backed up their pitcher in fine style. Clouse played faultless ball behind the bat and held down his position satisfactorily. Although overwhelmingly defeated by Madison, he pitched a very high brand of ball and if his infield had backed him up the score would probably have been different.

The Madison nine lock up in a game with Lexington Model Hi Friday afternoon and have high hopes of adding another victory to their list. The score: Madison ..... 123 200 20*—11
Model ..... 000 001 001—2

FIRST CHRISTIANS BEAT METHODISTS

Latter Put a Greatly Improved Team in Field Over Past—Makes it Interesting

Harry Bybee's Methodist team were again defeated by a score 14 to 2, at the hands of First Christians on the Normal field Tuesday.

Al Douglas, turned in a nice game for the winners, allowing four hits. His teammates smacked the horseshoe often and at opportune times. Great running catches were made by Barnett and Millard. The Methodists have improved their nine at several positions and seemed to have strengthened it quite a bit. Jett and Sammers covered wide territory. The First Christian infield played fast ball throughout. They handled all their fielding chances perfectly, two of their errors being made on wild throws and the others on the ball being lost in the sun.

After J. Parks retired from the mound, Isaacs succeeded him. His "dew drops" as some of the fans called it, fooled several batsmen. The score might have been different had he started the game.

The next Church League game will be Friday afternoon between the Presbyterians and the Catholics. A great deal of interest is being manifested in the meeting of the two "Campbellite" teams next week. President Deatherage will announce the date in ample time for all bugs to be there. The score:

Bad Blood Disfigures Young Faces With Unsightly Eruptions

The mortifying and unsightly skin and facial disfigurements on young people from 14 to 20 years old are seldom due to anything worse than impure blood. The young bodies are undergoing important changes, and the blood stream is temporarily disordered—often filled with poisonous waste matter.

In such cases only internal blood remedies can relieve. The impurities must be cast out and the vital fluid enriched before the disfigurements are cleared up. For this you naturally want an efficient, tested blood remedy—like S.S.S., the famous old herb medicine.

Start the young folks with S.S.S. today (your druggist has it), and write us about their condition, addressing Chief Medical Advisor, 541 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

More Good Signs

It was in one of the largest motion picture houses in New England. It was full of well-dressed, respectable looking people. They looked like the average audience in an average city church. And most them had come to see a picture which had been widely advertised as the best and most refined that had ever been made.

But after the regular world-travel pictures had been shown, a vulgar comedy was thrown on the screen, in which religion was travestied and the work of the mission was ridiculed. The audience sat silent and with apparent disapproval.

Following the so-called comedy, two people came out on the stage and danced a vulgar dance and recited a still more vulgar dialogue.

ANOTHER DELIGHTFUL PLAY AT UNION CITY

The Senior Class presents the shrieking farcial comedy, "A Cheerful Liar." The play has a capital plot, full of entanglements which presents the antics of gay deceivers on Thursday, May 19, at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium, Union City.

Cost of Characters in Order of Their Appearance
Guy McGuffin, a country constable.....Mr. J. J. Risk
Randolph Dearbon, an accessory before the fact.....Coleman Griggs
Flora Boomer, a girl who has a good time when she wants to.....Miss Margaret Baldwin

Mrs. Sweetlove, housekeeper at the gold cure establishment.....Miss Ophelia Risk

Haistings Hussell, J. P., a cheerful liar.....Mr. Elbridge Moberly

Gen. Boomer, a Chicago real estate millionaire.....Mr. Walter Moore

Lucrertia Spriggins, a Hoosier schoolmarm.....Miss Erle Moberly

"Rev." Ezra Stiggins, a gold cure practitioner.....Mr. Jesse Baxter

Assisted by Freshmen

And again the large audience sat silent and refused to call the actors back. During the war or immediately after it, the same exhibition of vulgarity and irreverence would have been followed with wild applause.

Are the people becoming ashamed of themselves? It begins to look as if some of them were. It would have been better if the entire audience had risen and gone out, after expressing disapproval. But its silence was at least a hint of the fact that the people are beginning to think a little.

The bad film is on trial. So are the people.

"The Silent Barrier," first motion picture play by a member of the British aristocracy to be produced in America, promises to thrill and enthrall patrons of the local theatres Thursday, as it did more than a million readers in its book form. Its author is Sir Louis Tracy, who was recently knighted by King George for war services.

This is the first of fifteen Tracy novels, rights to which were purchased by Louis Tracy Productions, Inc., to be completed for Gibraltar Pictures. The production was directed by Wm. Worthington who directed most of the Sessue Hayakawa successes, and is one of the most pretentious efforts of Gibraltar Pictures to date.

"The Silent Barrier" requires a cast of sixty people in the principal scenes and more than a month was spent by the entire company in filming special features of the story.

The local theatres announce as the feature attraction for Friday, "The Broken Gate" starring Bessie Barriscale. This is the first appearance of the popular star under the management of the J. L. Frothingham Productions released through W. W. Hodgkinson and it is said to represent the best work of her eminently successful career.

The Hardest Job in Every Business

In nearly every line production has been increased on account of the war. The hardest job ahead is to find a market in peace times for what those factories turn out. Money is made—not in manufacturing—but in selling. Yet selling seldom receives the attention it deserves.

The number of factories a manufacturer can build—the profit he can earn—are limited by the amount of merchandise for which he can find a profitable market.

If demand can be kept ahead of production, a profitable market is sure. And the one way to keep demand ahead of production is by advertising—teaching the public to use more of your goods.

In the past the South has bent her energies on manufacturing. The marketing of her products were largely left to others who took the raw materials and staples and converted them into specialties, trade-marked, advertised and sold them. And, invariably, it is the selling of specialties that pays the wide margin of profit and the selling of staples that pays the slim.

Greater profits—keeping conditions in our hands instead of on them—depend upon our marketing our goods as well as upon our making them.

The South's cotton goods should be known by brand-names in Detroit just as we know and buy the various makes of automobiles produced by the citizens of that enterprising Michigan city.

Lumber, of which the South is the Nation's greatest possessor, will be needed for reconstruction and the merits of our various woods should be convincingly told by advertising.

The South is the greatest fat-producing section of America. In the vegetable oils from her cotton-seed, peanuts and soy beans she produces more fat than all the dairy cows of America—more fat than all the hogs slaughtered in a year. More Southern-made and marketed compound lards and salad oils would bring additional millions into Dixie.

Cane syrups, coffees and all the other epicurean delights for which the South is famed would find a bigger demand if backed by adequate advertising. And such a demand would automatically fix a profitable price.

Marketing our products as well as making them would furnish work for the hands and brains of our returning sons—provide room for the tallest ambition and stop the emigration to the North and West of the talented and ambitious.

There was a time when we could sell the merchant and let him push the goods. But today the hardware, grocery and drug stores will carry from 2,000 to 10,000 different items. Pushing any one is impossible.

Wise manufacturers are marking their goods so that they can be recognized—telling the public about their merits and inducing the folks to pull them off of the shelves. And in this respect, at least, an ounce of "pull" is worth a pound of "push."

The advertising agencies of the South have had years of experience in advertising and marketing many commodities. They know the methods that have proved successful, because their whole time is engrossed with the problems of selling.

Their contact with leading manufacturers in many lines has made them intimate with various methods of winning trade—methods of securing distribution—fighting substitution. It is their business to know how business is being built.

Their services cost nothing. They are paid a commission by the publishers to make advertising profitable to the manufacturer. It will be a revelation to many business men to know the varied forms of assistance these agencies can render—information on markets, containers, trademark law, distribution methods, dealer cooperation, service in preparing booklets, copy-writing and real information on the value of different classes of advertising media.

Write, wire or phone any of the accredited advertising agencies of the South and arrange a conference with them to discuss how to increase sales. Let them help you solve the hardest job ahead

Confirming Early Rumors

THE air is full of the talk of rumors for summer frocks, both for grownups and children. Rumors of morning and porch dresses of ginghams, Swiss organdy and plain chambray veiled with colored linens are confirmed in all the recent displays. Gingham have invaded the realm of sports clothes also; the best grades of it make handsome skirts for wear with sweaters and sweaterscoats, for all sorts of outlooting, and it is found in company with taffeta in pretty, informal afternoon frocks. The feminine public appears to be newly awakened to the character and virtues of their old favorite in fabrics and is demanding much of it. Naturally gingham lead in the review of children's clothes.

For the little folks very small checks, combining white with a color, small plaits and crossbars, in soft colors, make up into dainty frocks. White lawn, white organdie, rick-rack braid and plain colored chambrays are called upon to furnish embellishments and cross-stitch embroidery finds itself very much at home on the checked gingham. Sprightly organdy frills are as welcome as spring flowers on many little frocks and others make themselves charming with applique flowers or simple embroideries. One of the checked gingham—in a blue and white check that is larger than the average—is shown in the novel little frock pictured here. The sleeves and bottom of the skirt are split in order to display more of the ruffling and the cross-stitch and running stitch used as a finish all in plain blue cotton. There are several variations of this model—in one of them the sleeves are not split.

There are some lovely shades of color among the plain linens that are making their cheerful presence felt in the displays of children's clothes; they include cherry red, apricot, Alice blue, yellow and green, and are not monopolized by the female of the species. Small boys find themselves resplendent in colored linen suits with plain white underblouses, or in colored chambrays or heavier cottons. The suit pictured is a practical affair in which a little chap can enjoy himself this summer.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY PLEASES AT UNION

On Tuesday evening "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard" was presented by a cast of Union City High School boys and girls to an overflow house and each member of the cast was greeted by uproarious laughter from the time the curtain rose until the close. Each one of the cast deserves special mention.

Miss Tommy Rupard, as "Mrs. Briggs," Mr. Jesse Moberly as "Jimmy Briggs," Misses Anna Margaret and Beulah Taylor as "Alvira and Melissa Briggs" respectively, were ideal. Mr. Bailey Olds as "Silas Green," looked and played the part of a bashful, rustic, country boy of an old bachelor age. Misses Daisy Wall and Emma Noland as "Virginia Lee and Daisy Thornton" played their parts well, as did Miss Lillie Noland as "Mandy Bates" who constantly stuttered. Mr. Edward Tevis as "Ralph Briggs" was really the adopted son of Mrs. Briggs, came along with a successful career by being reclaimed by his father. Mr. Jerry Baldwin as "Mr. Lee," was really the wealthy neighbor who became converted to Mrs. Briggs' philosophy, while Miss Mary Lou Dunbar as "Mrs. O'Conner," took her Irish dialect as if she were native of the Emerald Isle.

It was well done and the audience was loud in its praise of the attempt. It is the funniest piece of dramatic work we have yet undertaken at Union City and it shows us that we can have a good clean show at home most any time we wish it. The Union boys and girls have shown wonderful dramatic talent and we are trying to use and develop it.

The money we make goes to defray expenses we have incurred during this year to build up our library, run our light plant and train the boys and girls in a practical everyday life.

Thursday night we attempt to present "A Cheerful Liar," a play which has a strong plot and one in which considerable maneuvering and pathos occurs. Come to see it and help your school grow. The admission will be 25c and 15c to all.

OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

MRS. NANCY WESTCOTT, of Syracuse, N. Y., who declares Tanlac is the greatest medicine on earth. Says it built her up to where she is just brimful of new life and energy.

"I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine on earth and I can never praise it enough for what it's done for me.

"For two years I was in a badly rundown condition. I had no appetite, and after every meal I would be in awful distress from indigestion and bloating. My nerves were on edge, and I could never get a good night's sleep. I felt tired and worn out all the time, was losing weight, and many times I was so weak I couldn't look after my housework. I just felt miserable.

"Tanlac helped one of my friends so much that I began taking it and it certainly has built me up into splendid health. My appetite is so big I can hardly get enough to eat now, and I am never troubled a particle with bloating and indigestion. My nerves are as steady as clockwork, and I sleep like a child at night. I have recovered my strength and am just brimful of life and energy. In fact, I feel better than I have in years. My gratitude toward Tanlac is unbounded."

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Nancy Westcott, 121 Market St., Syracuse, N. Y.

HOW GROCERY STAPLES HAVE DROPPED IN YEAR

(By Associated Press)

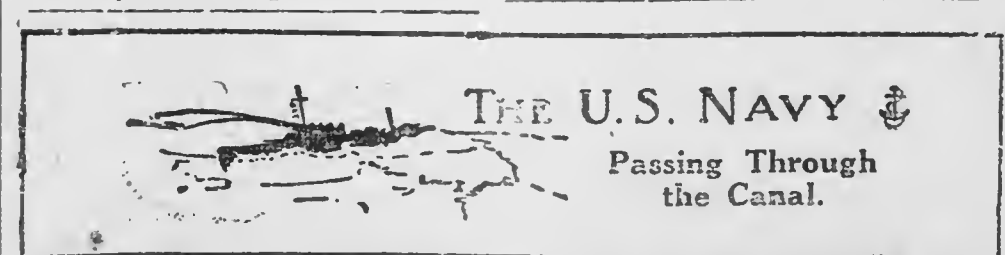

Cleveland, O., May 18—Prices on 27 important grocery staples, the purchase price of which totalled $9.64 on April 26, 1920, decreased to $6.03½ on April 26, 1921, a saving on the order of 37.21 staples of $3.60½ or 37.4 per cent, according to the records of a Cleveland chain store grocery company. Some of the staples and prices follow:

Granulated sugar, 2 lb.	1250	1921
Flour, 1-8 barrel	23.30	18.70
Potatoes, 10 lb.	80c	15c

Wealthy Farmer Dies From Cut On His Toe

Mt. Washington, Ky., May 17—Blood poisoning, which resulted from cutting his toe while trimming a corn, caused the death of W. L. Troutman, 68, wealthy farmer, at his home here. He put a medicine on his injury and an infection followed.

The parasol was used in Egypt in Cleopatra's reign.

THE U. S. NAVY
Passing Through the Canal.

The U. S. S. Wyoming and the U. S. S. New Mexico are shown here passing through the Pedro Miguel locks of the Panama Canal. The electric engines along the side of the locks are called "mules" in deference to their four legged predecessors—they have just hauled the battleship through the locks. If you are interested in mathematics you might figure out how many old style mules it would take to do the job.

The Wyoming at the left, is moving out to the lower level, and as soon as the water in the other lock is let out to the correct level the New Mexico will move ahead.

This picture was taken from a U. S. Navy flying boat, during the recent trip of the Pacific Fleet to the West Coast. They were royally received at all of the ports along the trip.

BIRD WITH TEETH FOUND IN KANSAS

(By Associated Press)

Lawrence, Kan., May 18—One of the two specimens in the world of bird's teeth was found in the chalk beds of Western Kansas and has been preserved at the University of Kansas museum, according to Prof. H. T. Martin, curator at the museum, who found the specimen. The other specimen is at the Yale University museum. The Kansas fossil is of the Cretaceous period, about 25 million years ago. Ten teeth are included with the fossil.

This is the second oldest known type of bird life, according to Prof. Martin. It is the most complete specimen that has been preserved. The bird was of the Hesperornis family. It was five feet long, had a short vertebral tail and possessed no wings. It was a marine bird and resembled the modern penguin.

"The earliest specimen of bird that has been discovered had teeth," says Prof. Martin. "This earliest type lived in the Jurassic period, some 30 million years ago, and specimens have been found in the lithographic limestone beds of Germany. This type of bird was about the size of a crow and had sharp, pointed teeth and a vertebral tail longer than the body, like the Dinosaur."

The specimen preserved at the University of Kansas is more valuable than any other, according to Prof. Martin, because it gives a clear idea of the semiplumaceous feathery covering which the bird possessed. No other specimen gives this evidence.

Women's Jury Rights To Be Tested in the Courts

Frankfort, Ky., May 18—The right of women to serve on juries in Kentucky will be determined legally before the Court of Appeals adjourns for the summer vacation. Adolph McLaughlin, Louisville, who received a sentence of 12 months in jail on a charge of malicious cutting, was convicted by a jury comprising eleven men and one woman. He contends the conviction is illegal. His counsel appealed the judgment and will ask that the case be docketed, advanced, submitted and be decided before the summer vacation.

The Efficient Woman

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of fifty years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force, and energy, in the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

Thousands of women have succeeded through daily baths, exercise in the fresh air, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of female weakness.

ORGAN RECITAL WAS A DELIGHTFUL EVENT

Richmond has never been so favored as in the last few weeks in its opportunity to enjoy real artists in the various departments of musical achievement.

The opening of the splendid Pfeiffer organ, aside from the dedication of the building itself, was the event of the ceremonies last Sunday at the new Presbyterian church. Mr. William Pfeiffer, of Louisville, the guest organist, held the attention of his audience from the initial Bach number to the close of the Verdi march. In Johnston's Evensong and the Berceuse of Dickenson the player displayed the soul world in which the real organist inevitably dwells, and in the Pilgrims' chorals and the Mendelssohn sonata he evinced an absolute understanding of the instrument. In the C minor Fantasia Mr. Pfeiffer had an adequate assistant in Miss Elizabeth Logan, who comes to the keyboard with marked originality and exquisite technique. No less pleasing was the last étude, given by Miss Logan, who is evidently living up to the traditions of her musical ancestors.

The choir under the direction of Miss Brownie Telford contributed its quota to the beauty and impressiveness of the morning and evening services.

Miss Bright, former pupil of Oscar Senger, did the solo work in the Inflammatus most effectively. In the evening services the Allister number by Miss Elizabeth Burnam, a voice graduate of the New England Conservatory, was a beautiful message to her friendly audience. Misses Cynthia Davison and Miriam Noland, both students of the conservatory of music, took the lead parts in the anthem with graceful effect, all of which combined to make the day one of glorious success and long to be remembered.

L. Hall, of the College of Agriculture, and assistant state leader of junior agricultural club work. Prizes totalling $300 already have been posted for winning teams and individuals. Cash prizes totalling $122 will be divided among the five highest scoring teams while $139 will be distributed among the ten highest scoring individuals.

According to the announcement, county teams will be composed of the three highest scoring individuals in a county contest. Contestants will be determined by elimination trials which will be held in each community. Teams may include girl members, but all must be 12 to 18 years old members of junior clubs. County agents or other qualified persons will act as coaches of the various teams, according to the present plans. Individuals may enter from any county not having a team and compete for honors.

In the competition at the fair, each team will place two rings of beef and dairy cattle, lard-type hogs and mutton sheep. Each ring will include four animals which may be representatives of any of the principal breeds. Contestants will give reasons for their placings one ring of each class of stock.
